EXECUTIVE PROFILE

Production and design professional with 22+ years built at the intersection of live events and graphic/multimedia design — not two separate careers, but one continuous practice. Started out hand-illustrating tour posters on paper in 1999, moved through the shift to digital design and motion graphics in the 2000s, and now works fluently with AI-assisted design and production tools in 2026. Equally comfortable running the technical and logistical side of a 200-event-a-year production calendar, and sitting at a desk designing the campaign artwork, motion content or brand assets that go with it. That dual fluency — able to both produce the show and design the visual world around it — is the throughline across every role below.

A DESIGN CAREER, TOLD THROUGH ITS TOOLS

This is the part of the CV that usually gets left off a production resume — but it's the other half of the work.

- 1999 – Pencil & paper: started designing tour and festival poster art by hand, learning composition, typography and layout the traditional way before ever opening a design program.
- 2000s – Digital transition: moved into Photoshop, Illustrator and early digital layout tools as the industry shifted, carrying the same composition fundamentals into a new medium.
- 2008 onward – Motion & multimedia: expanded into video, motion graphics and multimedia campaign design for agencies and major brands, working across print, digital and broadcast simultaneously.
- 2023 – 2026 – AI-native design: integrated AI design and content-generation tools into everyday creative work, cutting concept-to-delivery turnaround while keeping the same design judgment built up over the previous two decades.

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Note: the consulting and freelance design work below runs alongside the contracted resort role — a fairly normal setup for people working across production and design, where steady freelance relationships build up over a career.

Club Med Luxury Resorts | Technical Production

2023 – 2026 | Maldives • Indonesia • China • Malaysia

- Run technical production for 200+ live events a year across four luxury resort properties, keeping sound, lighting and multimedia delivery consistent with a five-star brand standard show after show.
- Oversee the multimedia systems and content playback that go alongside every live show — screens, projection and show visuals — making sure the design and technical sides of a production stay in sync.

- Put preventative-maintenance and contingency routines in place across all AV, lighting and multimedia inventory, so equipment issues get caught before they ever reach a live show.
- Serve as the on-the-ground technical point of contact for international artists, executives and VIP guests across productions reaching 15,000+ attendees a year, handling rider requirements and last-minute changes without disrupting the show.
- Keep production compliant with international HSE, operational and brand-safety standards across four countries, each with its own regulatory requirements.

Unity Management & Booking | Creative Production Director

2011 – Present | South Africa / International

- Run 20+ live productions a year — national festivals, corporate activations and multi-city tours — from the first concept conversation through technical design, execution and the post-event debrief.
- Design the creative identity for each production — posters, campaign artwork, motion content and show visuals — alongside running the technical and logistical build, so the look of an event and the delivery of it come from the same hand.
- Manage production budgets across multiple departments and negotiate directly with technical, creative and operational vendors to keep costs under control without cutting corners on show quality.
- Built and introduced AI-augmented workflows into the creative process, cutting turnaround time on concept development and content creation by up to 40%.
- Lead teams spanning technical production, creative and marketing on each project, keeping everyone aligned on timelines and what needs to land, and when.

Independent / Agency Consulting | Creative Lead & Multimedia Designer

2008 – Present | South Africa

- Deliver freelance creative and multimedia design for agencies including Cartel Digital, Electronico Media, Beutlegeuse Advertising and Doghouse Design Agency — the core design-focused thread running alongside the events work.
- Directed multimedia campaign production for major brands — Adidas, Coca-Cola, MTN and Vodacom — taking each campaign from concept sketch through to finished video, motion graphics and digital content.
- Handle the full design process on these campaigns personally: concept development, illustration and layout, motion design, and final digital delivery, across print, social and broadcast formats.
- Brought AI-assisted design and content-generation tools into agency pipelines early, shortening the time from concept to delivery on freelance projects while keeping creative direction hands-on.

Flag & Fury Touring / Heritage Music | Production Manager & Festival Operations Lead

1999 – 2011 | United States • Europe • Australia • Asia

- Managed international touring operations across 8+ countries, coordinating travel, technical riders, staging, freight, customs clearance and artist logistics for every stop on the road.
- Designed tour and festival poster art by hand throughout this period — the starting point of a design practice that has run in parallel with the production work ever since.
- Ran festival operations for events drawing over 5,000 attendees in a single day, directing production teams, vendors and venue compliance under tight live-event time pressure.
- Worked through operational and technical problems in real time, often in unfamiliar venues and jurisdictions, keeping shows starting on schedule night after night.
